

Grandmother's Hand – Evaluation-Tool

This method is a very effective and simple method for evaluating a project.

A grandmother is a wise old lady who is loving, caring, and supportive, but she is also honest about improvement-points.

This method is founded on her five fingers.

3 positive good things

2 things to improve

The project leaders draw a hand on the board and explain the method.

A. Every student writes those five points on a paper (3 positive/2 to be improved)

or

B The students get together in smaller groups and discuss and agree upon 5 points that they write on a paper

N.B. ALL THE POINTS MUST BE PRESENTED IN AN HONEST BUT GENTLE WAY

In plenum, the students or groups present the points that are written on the board by the project leaders

The project leaders document the evaluation and keep it for future projects

EXAMPLE: HARRY POTTER DAY

The project is presented by the language project class, and the rest of the school is participating in different Potter-related activities in English as foreign language.

The Evaluation could be as follows.

Good thing:
Very nice documentation

To be improved:
Communication: Remember to keep everyone informed (also the parents).
Information in English!

Good thing:
Very colorful Potter costumes

Good thing:
Phase of ideas:
Post-it method worked very well
LOTS OF IDEAS!!

To be improved:
Evaluation
Remember to hand out the evaluation papers to the guests before they leave
